

TRANSMOUNT

Transitions in Mountain Environments

Explore the dynamic mountain environments and territories in a multidisciplinary formula, between climate change, globalization and sustainability issues!

23 February 2026 - 15 June 2026

Workshop in Sion, Switzerland

From 1 to 5 June 2026

Scan for more information

Objectives

Provide conceptual and methodological tools to address current environmental, social and economic issues in mountain regions, in the context of climate and global changes, guiding the searching for sustainable solutions.

Thematic Axes

Axis 1: Hydro-geomorphological processes & risks

Axis 2: Landscape changes in agro-sylvo-pastoral systems

Axis 3: Mountain heritage & tourism economy

Target group

Geographers, Geologists, Environmentalists, Ecologists, Biologists, Territorial/urban planners, Social scientists.

Open to Master's and PhD students.

Language : English

Total workload : 127 hours (5 ECTS)

Application

Online application form with CV and Motivation letter until 31 October 2025.

Contacts

University of Lausanne

Jeanne Fournier, jeanne.fournier@unil.ch

Mélanie Clivaz, melanie.clivaz@unil.ch